

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES, B.A.

The major in interdisciplinary studies enables students to tailor their educational pathway to their unique academic and professional interests. In close collaboration with their interdisciplinary faculty advisor, students create a self-designed pathway that focuses on a thematic area of interest, on a range of interconnected issues in society, or on a combination of academic disciplines. Examples of self-designed concentrations include, but are not limited to: Global South Studies; European Studies; Business & Communication; Arts & Psychology; Science & Communication; and many more.

Future educators can combine a major in interdisciplinary studies with an education licensure program at the early childhood, elementary, and middle school level. The interdisciplinary program offers middle school concentrations in general science; math and science; as well as humanities.

In addition to lower and upper-level courses in students' areas of concentration, all students enrolled in the interdisciplinary studies program complete a component of interconnected interdisciplinary courses that equip them with the ability to research, analyze, and find solutions to complex issues that cannot be understood through a single lens. Students graduating with a BA in Interdisciplinary Studies will be well prepared not only for professional and advanced academic work in their areas of concentration, but also for an ever-changing labor world.
